Presidents Message from Lynn Murry

Dear Tunis Sheep Breeders,

The Tunis breed is only getting better with all the online sales, National Show and Sale, and Midwest Stud Ram Show and Sale. We, as Tunis breeders are producing sheep that are great representatives of the breed and showing that the Red heads can compete in the sheep industry. As I have always say, "I'm proud to be a Tunis Breeder". If you have questions, concerns, or ideas feel free to contact any board member or even your region representative. As we continue on through this year I want to remind everyone the best way to market our breed is by continuing to be helpful and friendly. I know that our opinions differ sometime but in the end we are all working towards the same goal of marketing the best animal we can as Tunis Breeders.

Reasons to buy RED at the 2017 National Tunis Show and Sale May 26, 27, 28, Wooster, Ohio!

Thinking of Tunis Friends

by: Kathy Niese

Day to day we live our lives, going to work, school, taking care of our families and livestock. We are busy doing whatever it is that we do. I wanted to take a moment to remember our Tunis friends who are going through some tough times right now. I am not going to mention names because I know there are probably more friends than I know of who need extra thoughts and prayers.

Please take a moment to remember those in our extended Tunis family who have recently lost loved ones, or who are experiencing health or other problems. There are also many great milestones to celebrate, graduations, weddings, and births! So if you know of someone who could use a note of encouragement or congratulations, drop them a line to let them know you are thinking of them! A little support goes a long way!

NAILE 2017 UPDATE

By Susan B. Anderson

The 2017 NAILE Tunis Open Show will have more opportunities for Slick Shorn Tunis sheep. There will be a NEW Slick Shorn Yearling Ram class and additional placings for Slick Shorn Ram Lambs and Slick Shorn Ewe Lambs. Of course, these changes require money. At their February meeting, the NTSRI Board of Directors voted to put up $437 for these changes. This leaves a shortfall of approximately $438. I have proposed a fundraiser for the NAILE Tunis Premium Fund. Any money raised would be used this year or in the future for NAILE Tunis Open Show premiums.

Here is an outline of the proposed fundraiser:

Purposes:

- To Celebrate Tunis at the National Tunis Sale in Wooster, Ohio
- To Promote Tunis Sheep
- To Create "BUZZ" about Tunis
- To Attempt to get More People, Especially Youth, Interested in Tunis
- To Raise Money for the Proposed Expanded Premium Schedule for the NAILE Tunis Open Show 2017

Proposal:

- Raffle off 3 Tunis Ewe Lambs from Established Tunis Sheep Breeders

Specifics:

- Obtain 3 Donated Ewe Lambs from 3 Established Tunis Breeders for the purpose of Raffling them off
- Print Raffle Tickets of 2 Different Colors (Example: Yellow and Pink)
- Sell Tickets ($10.00 each) – Yellow for Adults, Pink for Youth
- Sell No More than 160 Tickets
- Hold Drawing in the Tunis Barn 30 Minutes Following the Conclusion of the Tunis Sale
- At Least 1 Ewe Lamb Must Go to a Youth (Pink Ticket)
- The First Ticket Drawn – Person Gets to Pick Which Ewe Lamb He/She Wants
- The Second Ticket Drawn – Person Gets to Pick Which of the 2 Remaining Ewe Lambs He/She Wants
- The Third Ticket Drawn – Person Gets Remaining Ewe Lamb
- If the First 2 Tickets Drawn are Yellow, the Third Ticket Drawn Must be Pink
- Ticket Holder or Their Representative Must be Present at Time of Drawing

Thanks to the generosity of Tim Barnes of Barnes Farms Genetics, David and Sandra Rock, RQL Farm, and Matt and Jennifer Maag, MJM Farm for donating the ewe lambs for the raffle. Plan to join us in Wooster, Ohio for the National Tunis Show & Sale and purchase tickets to win the opportunity to win one of these ewe lambs in our raffle!

Color Changing Lambs

By Kim Day from an article found at: <http://redropefarm.com/2017/04/26/color-changing-lambs>

Twin Tunis lambs

I'm often asked about Tunis wool. Is it soft? What projects are it good for? Why do lambs have different colored wool than adults? Tunis wool is a fine to medium, down-type wool with lots of loft. If you're not familiar with wool or fiber terms this means Tunis wool is soft and bouncy and makes light and springy yarn which is great for a variety of projects. Explaining the lambs' coloring isn't as simple.

Close up of 6 wk old Tunis

Tunis lambs are born with a short layer of cream-colored wool over their torsos and necks and light to dark cinnamon colored hair on their legs, heads and tails. Intermixed in the wool are longer kemp fibers (think guard hairs) that can sometimes completely hide the wool. The amount of kemp fibers can vary between lambs, just as the cinnamon shade can. To the left are twin lambs. Notice how one is much darker and also has more kemp fibers covering his wool.

Close up of Kemp Fiber

Over their first few months lambs appear to change from cinnamon to the lighter cream color of their parents. Their color doesn't actually fade during this time. Their wool grows longer, though the kemp, but they also begin to shed much of those longer, darker kemp fibers.

You can see this in the photo of a 6 week old lamb. The kemp fibers are longer and becoming more sparse overall.

Jack, 1 year old, before first shearing

By the time Tunis lambs are 3-4 months old they have the typical coloring associated with the adults. As Tunis sheep age their wool does lighten slightly. Their first fleece is usually a beautiful cream color and each year it will become whiter, although Tunis wool doesn't ever become pure white.

You can see the differences in color in the photo to the left. The two shorn ewes are 5 years old in this photo, the smaller lambs are all up to 8 weeks old and the larger lamb on the far right is 4 months old.

And that is the not so simple explanation of why Tunis lambs seem to change color.

Hope you enjoyed it!

Contest needs HELP!

On behalf of the NTSRI Tunis Pride Photo Contest Committee, we would like to thank everyone who submitted photos to date. It is always a pleasure to see each and every photo submitted. This is a popular page on the website and the newsletter.

In order to continue the page we need a person to volunteer to receive the pictures, select the monthly photos, and submit the pictures to the website liaison, and the newsletter editor for publication.

If you have email and would be interested in doing this job, please contact Kathy Niese at Kathy.niese@yahoo.com.

To qualify members must send you the photo by the 10th of the month and sign the photo release form located on the NTSRI website (one time only). Members then send photos by email.

Winners receive a free ad with two photos on the NTSRI website (Ad Section). Photos not chosen for the month submitted, may be re-nominate the photo for another month.

We prefer photos which reflect the month in which they are nominated. For instance, lambing season is upon us, and it would be a great time to select great photos of those precious little lambs.

As always we hope to keep the photos coming to the website and the newsletter, so keep those cameras, cell phones and iPods out and start clicking those Kodak moments!

This would be a great job for someone who loves taking pictures and promoting our beautiful red-heads!
